On November 8, 2013, the parties made a status appearance before the Court during which time the parties requested, and the Court ordered, a continuance until December 11, 2013 for either a change of plea hearing or to set motions and/or trial. The continuance was requested so that the defendant could continue to review the discovery that had been produced by the United States and effectively prepare for trial.

The parties also requested, and the Court ordered, that the time between November 8, 2013 and December 11, 2013, would be excluded from the running of the speedy trial clock for effective preparation of counsel, 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv). The parties agree that, taking into account the public interest in prompt disposition of criminal cases, good cause exists for this extension. The parties also agreed that the ends of justice served by granting such a continuance outweighed the best interests

1 of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial. 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A).

For the reasons stated above, this matter is continued until December 11, 2013 for either a change of plea hearing or to set motions and/or trial. The Court finds that the exclusion of time from November 8, 2013 through December 11, 2013 is warranted and that the ends of justice served by the continuance outweigh the best interests of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial. 18 U.S.C. § 3161 (h)(7)(A). The failure to grant the requested continuance would deny the defendant effective preparation of counsel and would result in a miscarriage of justice. 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv).

SO ORDERED.
